Act 9: a context number is most decodable mid-stack and is not carried to the output; attention attribution never finds the answer token